

Janine Carpenter, Research Analyst, Turnaway Study. Janine Carpenter is an Interviewer for the Turnaway Study. Prior to joining ANSIRH, she worked as a Research Assistant on Project Viva, a maternal/child public health study cosponsored by Harvard Medical School and Harvard Pilgrim Health Care Institute. She has experience coordinating, monitoring, and evaluating student-run volunteer service programs. She has also done outreach to disadvantaged women about the availability of health insurance and provided eligibility screenings. Ms. Carpenter received her B.A. in Sociology and Latin American Studies from Columbia University. Phone: 510-986-8959.