

Elise Belusa, MSc, Research Manager. Elise Belusa is a Research Manager for multiple studies at ANSIRH. She brings a background in both domestic and international reproductive health research and service, including work with HIV positive women in the northwest, adolescents in the South and Midwest, homeless women in the northeast, and women of Kenya and Senegal. Prior to joining ANSIRH, Ms. Belusa worked with health education at the Women's Options Center at UCSF, program management at TEACH Training, and research assistance with Ibis Reproductive Health. She received her BA from the University of Minnesota and completed her Masters of Science in Reproductive & Sexual Health Research from the London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine. 510-986-8969.