

Ivette Gomez, Research Analyst, Turnaway Study.

Ivette Gomez is an Interviewer for the Turnaway Study. Prior to joining ANSIRH, she worked as an interviewer for the U.S. Census Bureau, where she worked with immigrant communities. Although new to working in women's reproductive health field, in college Ms. Gomez focused on critical issues in women's health and women's history. She is very excited to be joining the ANSIRH team and looks forward to learning more about the field. Ms. Gomez received her BA from Stanford University in Anthropological Sciences.
