

Alison Swiatlo, MPH, Research Coordinator. Alison Swiatlo is a Research Coordinator for the Restrictions Project in Louisiana. In the summer of 2013, Alison was an intern at ANSIRH working on the Global Turnaway Study. She returned to ANSIRH via Louisiana in July 2014 to work on the SWATCH study for the Restrictions Project. Growing up in Mississippi and working in Louisiana, Alison's interests include abortion access and reproductive health and justice in the U.S. South and other socially conservative atmospheres. Ms. Swiatlo received her Bachelors of Science in Biology from Boston College and her Masters in Public Health from Tulane School of Public Health. 504-493-0007.